

LOCAL NEWS

Posted on: Sunday, December 13, 2009

Malama Learning Center workshop offers tips on recycled holiday gifts

Advertiser Staff

The Malama Learning Center in Kapolei yesterday hosted "Creating Gifts that are Good for the Earth," a workshop on ways to reduce holiday waste and make creative gifts and designs from reused and recycled products.

The event featured a hands-on workshop by craftsperson Gaudencia Palomo-Burns, who showed participants how to create bags from old clothing, as well as how to decorate gifts with Hawaiian prints.

Read more at www.myadvertiser.com/kapolei.

Attendees of "Creating Gifts that are Good for the Earth" learned how to repurpose clothing into bags as well as how to decorate gifts with Hawaiian prints.

Photo courtesy Mälama Learning Center